In Addition:

You may want to try your hand at the Bracketed KO Teams. In these games, your team will consist of four players. The teams with the fewest master points play in the lowest bracket, so you are likely to play with other players that are close to you in points. In these games, there are four sessions. You “advance” after each session you win, and you are “knocked out” once you lose a session. You must be available for all of the games in case you are successful and reach the final game. Bracketed KO’s start on Monday at 7:00; Wednesday at 1:30; and Friday at 1:30. Or try your hand at any other tournament event. Playing in open events can be a great learning experience!

Stop by the Newcomer’s desk and you will find a friendly person who can answer your questions and give you other Newcomer information. And, if you don’t have a partner, call the partnership chairs and they will fix you up with a partner for a game. The earlier you let them know your need for a partner, the more likely they will be able to accommodate you.
